

Calm before the storm?

Here at Klimate the quieter period of the year is upon us, and as ever this period lands over the summer months. As the weather (on the whole) has been the driest and warmest for some years, it has allowed businesses nationwide to keep their roller shutters and High Speed doors in the open position day after day lowering the usage and daily cycles of the doors.

The maintenance of the doors is often overlooked throughout this period as all appears calm, although once the weather takes a turn for the worst a real storm can brew often disrupting services at many organisations with problems appearing more apparent with the doors, so why not think ahead?

Year after year the situation does take a turn for the worse as the autumn and winter weather pushes in, which leads to a string of emergency callouts flying into the Klimate offices. Our advice is to be PROACTIVE rather than REACTIVE and arrange a service now to help maintain the doors, thus lowering the chance of serious problems throughout those winter months!

Alternatively if you do not have a service contract with us call now for a free quote and stay one step ahead of the trouble. (All quotes for new products and installations are also free of charge)
